PROFILE

Camden DeBord is a multi-faceted individual that holds a bachelor's degree in New Media with specializations in animation, 3d modeling, and graphic design. In highschool Camden found a love for creating and educating from his experience doing volunteer tennis lessons with the youth of his home town and working as a swim instructor and coach for his local wellness center. While he worked he also found a passion for the arts and would pursue this fire going forward into college. His passion for the arts would lead him to win multiple awards for his work among his peers at University of North Carolina Asheville. Camden is seeking an opportunity where he can learn from his peers, practice his leadership ability, and grow his skill set in a creative field.
